INSTRUCTIONS

The following instructions are intended for guidance of officers writing the annual confidential reports in the prescribed form. The report should contain a full appreciation and assessment of the particulars in the form with any additional information considered necessary. Personal likes and dislikes should not form the basis of any opinion but at the same time, softness to shield defects should also be avoided.

- (1) The Reporting and the Reviewing Authority should be one under whom the officer/employee has rendered, at least three months of continuous service. There may be more than one A.C. R. during the period of report (one year).

- (2) Work in which employee during the period of report:- In this column the actual nature of work done by the officer/employee should indicate briefly, at the same time leaving no doubt as to the type of work on which the officer/employee has been employed during the period under report. Thus, such entries as “dealing assistant “ “doing correspondence” should be avoided. Entries such as “deals with appointment, promotion, posting and transfer of offices of the Assam Civil Services”, would be more suitable.

- (3) Intelligence :- The level of intelligence and the mental alertness of the officers/employee should be specifically commented upon.

- (4) Capacity of work :- In assessing this, the reporting officer should considered the ability of the officer/employee in nothing, drafting writing precise etc. He should mentally review whether the officers/employee knows his job well, whether he applies to his work well and where he is hardworking systematic, through and quick. Proficiency in and aptitude for any technical or specialized work should also find a specific mention in the report.

(5) Knowledge of laws, rules and order and office procedure: - Are all these adequate considering the nature of duties and responsibilities of the particular officer/employee? If it is not upto the required standard, say so. Does the officer/employee follow prescribed procedures in matters of routines and otherwise as laid down and instructions issued from time to time by the Government? Here the officer making the annual report may take the help of the appropriate supervisory officer.

(6) Attendance, conduct and amenability to discipline :- Is he punctual not only maintaining proper office hours, but also in his habits and prompt in disposal? Is he generally obedient and amiable? Does he grudge occasional extra work? Latest Government Instructions regarding punctuality should also be taken into consideration while filling up the column of punctuality.

Remarks should be made about the sense of duty and responsibility of the officer employee, his/her reliability, honesty and integrity.

(7) Character :- In making remarks the reporting officer should bear in mind that if their have been specific instances or complains of dishonesty or corruption having some foundation, these should be stated. Else a positive assessment should find mention.

(8) The entries in different parts of the form should be made by the appropriate authorities, in terms of schedule II of the Assam services (Confidential Rolls) Rules, 1990.

(9) Grading: - All Officers/employees should be graded by the Reviewing officer on an overall assessment of all facts, as “outstanding”, “very good”, “good”, “mediocre” or “average” and “bad or below average” as the case may be.

(10) Guide: - A guide for the estimate of general ability and character of officers is appended herewith.
