

ASSAM SETTLEMENT OF
FOREST COUPES AND MAHALS
BY TENDER SYSTEM
RULES, 1967

ASSAM SETTLEMENT OF FOREST COUPES AND
MAHALS BY TENDER SYSTEM
RULES, 1967

1. Title and application of the rules.

- (1) These rules shall be called the Assam Settlement of Forest Coupes and Mahals by Tender system Rules, 1967.
- (2) They shall come in to force at once.
- (3) They shall extend to all areas to which the Assam Forest Regulation, 1891 applies.

2. Definition.

In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or contest —

- (a) “Conservator” means “Conservator of Forests” and includes “Chief Conservator of Forest” also;

- (b) “Coupe” means a compact area wherein a number of trees are remarked for sale by auction or tender and for removal within specified period;
- (c) “Mahal” means a defined area where from certain types of forest produce are sold on condition of their removal within a specified period.

COMMENTS

It was held in Bilash Ram Baishya v. Divisional Forest Officer [1976 ALR 145], that the seized timbers couldn't come within the meaning of “Coupe”. For considering the question whether the seized timbers advertised for sale were forest produce or mahal it is necessary to look to the definition of ‘forest produce’ as defined in sub-Ss. (3) and (4) of S. 3 of the Assam Forest Regulation. Their Lordships also considered the definition of the word ‘Mahal’, which means an area where from certain types of forest produce are sold on condition of their removal within a specified period. This being the position, the seized timbers as advertise in the sale notice in question may be said to be ‘Mahal’ and as such, the sale of the seized timbers in question as, stated in the sale-notice, may be said to be a sale under Assam Settlement of Forest Coupes and Mahals by Auction System Rules, 1967. In Mona Goshain v. State of Assam [1983] 1 GLR 147], the word ‘coupe’ has been defined as a compact area where a number of trees are remarked for sale. The trees, which have felled and remarked no longer remain the part and parcel of the coupe.

COMMENTS

It was held in Khoi Singh v. State of Assam [(1983) 1 GLR 410], that this rule is optional and not mandatory. In Muffasin Ali Barbhuiyan v State of Assam [AIR 1971 A and N 171(DB)] it was held that this rule is directory.

After lengthy discussion it was also observed that whatever label may be given to the nature of settlement, namely 'privilege' or licence' or 'so called right', but it is a proceeding for enforcement of certain rights to the qualified person who are entitled to get it and the validity of settlement, if arbitrary and capricious, can be question by any person. The discretion to grant largess by the Government is subject to two restrictions. First, the award must pas the test of reasonableness and public interest. Ordinarily all Governmental actions, whether done under the authority of law or in exercise of executive power without making law, failing to satisfy the tests of reasonableness and public interest are invalid. Secondly, while selection the recipients, the Government is not at liberty, like a private individual, to pick and choose, as it likes. The Governmental action must be objective and impersonal, consistent and responsible. The validity of its action is liable is liable to be tested on the touchstone of the principals of reasonableness, relevancy and the doctrine of equality judicially involved as a rule of Administrative Law running parallel with the doctrine of equality enshrined in Art. 14 Clause (v) mandates production of documents evidencing their financial puissance. Other Cls. (ii) and (iv) speak about production of 'certificate', whereas Cl. (v) mandates production of 'documents'. Hence there is clear distinction between 'certificate' and 'document'

7. Any other conditions not inconsistent with the rules.

The authority calling for tender may call for any other particulars from the intending tenderer with a view to eliciting information about his financial soundness.

8. Procedure for dealing with the tenders.

(1) After the scrutiny of the tenders, the order for acceptance of any tender shall be passed by the respective competent authorities whose competency shall be according to the delegation of financial powers under the Assam Delegation of Financial Power Rules, 1960.

- (2) Where, according to the limit of financial power under the Delegation of Financial Powers Rules, 1960, the officer receiving the tenders is not competent to pass order of acceptance of tender, he shall forward the tender papers with his comments to his next higher authority for necessary action.

9. Appeal and review.

- (1) An appeal shall lie, within 15 days from the date of issue of the order of acceptance of tender as follows :

COMMENTS

As Held in Maneshwar Basumatary v. Niranjan Bachak [1976 ALR 94], and appeal has been provided under the rules and has to be disposed of with the minimum requirements of judicial approach. In support thereof, the decisions of the Supreme Court in Shivji Nathubhai v. The Union of Indian [AIR 1958 SC 248] and in State of Assam v. Hari Singh [AIR 1969 SC 29] were referred to and in the last one cited, it was observed :

“It is therefore clear that the duty of an authority invested with power to decide a question to act judicially need not arise from express enactment, it may result from necessary implication of the statute”.

COMMENTS

As held in Bilash Ram Baishya v. Divisional Forest Officer [1976 ALR 145], for dues under this rule, the Divisional Forest Officer may request the Deputy Commissioner of the district for realisation of the due as provided under Chapter V of the Assam Land and Revenue Regulation read with R. 16 of the Settlement Rules. But the Divisional Forest Officer Goalpara cannot make any request for initiation of proceedings to the Baki Jai Officer or Collector Kamrup under Chapter V of the Regulation.

This rule is applicable only when in fact and in reality a coupe or mahal is re-sold and then the difference between re-sale values at which it was originally settled is realisable as due. As held in Bejiram Ingti v. State of Assam [(1981) 1 GLR 222], there is no provision to treat such arrears as dues under the Rules

18. Mode of realisation of amount.

Any amount due under the rules shall be recoverable as arrears of land revenue.

19. Power of attorney.

No power of attorney or mortgage deed or any encumbrance shall be recognised in respect of the coupe or the mahal except when executed it previous permission in writing from the authority competent to make the settlement.

20. Right to withdrawal of any coupe or mahal.

The authority competent to make settlement shall have the right to withdraw any coupe or mahal from settlement at any time before issue of final order of acceptance of tender.

COMMENTS

Under this rule both the Government in the Forest Department and the authority competent to accept the tender shall have the right to withdraw. It is being recognised that settlement is a very drastic power comprehensively affection the right of citizens which demands fair administrative procedure. Natural justice is demanded in case of revocation, suspension of leases or settlements already granted; and the same principle has been applied to in tail leases or settlements as well. It is being recognised that settlement is a drastic power, greatly affecting the right of the citizens, and that this demands administrative procedure. It is the duty of the authorities concerned to observe natural justice in the context.

21. Extension of the period of settlement.

- (1) No extension of the period of settlement shall ordinarily be admissible.
- (2) In case, however, there is delay in passing final order of settlement by more than 2 months beyond the date for which the period of settlement is to commence, the Divisional Forest Officer within whose jurisdiction the coupe or mahal is situated may give extension by so much time as has been lost beyond the aforementioned 2 months; provided such delay was not caused by any lapse on the part of the tenderer himself.
- (3) Where, under exceptional circumstances, any extension beyond the time mentioned in sub-R (2) above is found to be justified, such extension may be given on the following conditions:
  - (i) extension may be given only in respect of coupe and not in respect of mahal;
  - (ii) extension under this sub-rule together with any extension given under sub-R (2) shall not exceed one year;

- (iii) extension under this sub-rule may be given only the authority which passed the final order of acceptance of tender;
- (iv) an extension fee for any extension given under this sub-rule shall be payable at progressive rates, namely:
  - (a) for the first 6 months under such extension – 1 per cent of the total value at which the coupe is settle;
  - (b) beyond the first 6 months – 2 percent. of such total value.

COMMENTS

Sub-rule (1) confers discretion in the Government to grant extension of coupes or mahals in 'exceptional cases'. The nature and power of the Stat Government is purely discretionary.

However, the exercise of the power should not be arbitrary. As held in Daya Ram Basumatary v. The State of Assam [(1981) 1 GLR 334], some tincture of judicial discretion is necessary in making such an order.

As held in Sureshwar Mazumdar v. State of Assam [(1982) 1 GLR 399] a bare perusal of sub-R (3) of R. 21 shows that is only applicable in case where exceptional circumstances exist and not otherwise. It is equally incumbent on the part of the person concerned to invoke sub-R (3) to show existence of any exceptional circumstances for which extension of period is sought for. If he fails to do so it is not obligatory on the part of the authority concerned to allow such a prayer even if as a matter of course one claims the existence of any such exceptional circumstances. In Jagannathe Choudhary v. State of Assam [(1985) 1 GLR 496] also their Lordships observed that extension may be granted only in exceptional cases and one of the relevant conditions is that extension may be granted on payment of proportionate value or extension fee, as determined by the competent authority to grant extension. Their Lordships considered the words 'on payment' to be significant. According to Black's law dictionary, the expression 'payment' means – "the fulfillment of a promise of the performance of an agreement, discharge of an obligation or debt and part-payment, if accepted ... .. payment is delivery of money or its equivalent in either specific property or services ... .."

- 22. The settlement of a coupe or a mahal under these Rules shall be without prejudice to the working of other forest produce or catching of elephants inside the coupe or the mahal by other coupe holders or mahaldars during the same period.
